

Seminar

Hotel Richemond , Geneva

8 March 2017

Commodity trading in uncharted waters: implications of regulatory change

Navigating the tide of change to manage the intended and unintended consequences of regulatory reform

March 8, 2017

Confirmed speakers:

- Tony Ricci, Global Head of Compliance for Commodities Markets, Société Générale
- Philip Goodswen, Senior Lawyer, Cargill
- Phil Simons, Global Head FI & FX Derivatives, Eurex
- Jean-Christian Fages, Head of International Execution, Louis Dreyfus Commodities Suisse S.A.
- Scott Wellcome, Head of Risk, Solaris Commodities S.A.
- Dessislava Barzachka, Quality & Sustainability, Bunge
- Ahmad Mukhtar, Economist , FAO
- Thomas Schmitz, Head of Sales, Coal, Clearing ISV, EEX
- Conor Foley, Advisor - Government & Regulatory Affairs, Norton Rose Fulbright
- Demetri Odeski, Risk Management Officer, Integral Petroleum
- Garth Ehrhardt Counsellor (Agriculture) Permanent Mission of Canada & Chair of WTO Committee on Agriculture
- Laurent Cousin, Managing Director, Roquette
- Franck Borgel, Global Head of Commodities Agency Business

Sponsored by:

Cocktail sponsored by:

Register online at www.incoda.org

Seminar

Hotel Richemond , Geneva

8 March 2017

13.30 – 14.00: Setting the scene

Regulatory trends relevant to commodity trading: what's known, what's guesswork? A look at physical markets and the changing face of financial regulation

14.00 - 15.00: Regulation impact on trade flows roundtable

- International trade policy and the rise of protectionism: a schizophrenic outlook?
- Non-tariff barriers: impacts on trade flows and cross-border agricultural supply chains
- Market access and SPS standards: a double-edged sword?
- Adapting corporate strategies: what to look out for 15.00 - 15.30: Opening of roundtable to seminar participants

15.30 - 16.00: Refreshment break

16.00 - 17.30: Financial regulation session

- How could the unintended consequences of financial regulation (MiFID II, Dodd-Frank, Basel IV, FinFrag) affect commodities and energy
- Examining the Trump effect
- How can trade reporting challenges be overcome?
- Criticality of corporate data protection in an evolving technology environment
- Open format discussion

17.30: Cocktail reception

19.30: Close

Fees to participate:

GAFTA/STSA/ICDA
Association Members
Non-Members

290 Swiss francs +8% TVA
390 Swiss francs + TVA

Register online at www.incod.org